Veronica Laker

I qualified with a BEng in Electronic Engineering and Management and joined Motorola on the Graduate Training program 10 years ago straight from University where I began working here as a Digital Hardware Engineer working on both GSM and WiMax products. I did a 6 month rotation into the Supply Chain group approximately 5 years ago and then re-joined Engineering as a Project Manager. I now lead a cross-functional team of engineers both in the UK and China working on one of our GSM radio products.
