Opening video and remarks by Regional Chair, Maggie Song

IBM has long history of commitment to diversity and has been acknowledged as a world leader in its commitment to women both in and out of the corporation to provide better workplace environment and encourage more females to pursue Engineer career. IBM China has successfully led last two years' Global Marathon events with large amount of university and middle school female students participation. It has provided valuable networking and mentoring and even beyond that in career development. Please email Maggie or Lin for more information, look forward to seeing more female students to join the virtual conference or attend the live marathon presentation.

Dr. Maggie Song has been a Senior Software Engineering Manager role with the responsibilities of product development. She has 14 years of software industry experience with 10+ years in leadership roles. Maggie also is a co-leader of Women In Technology (WIT) community in IBM Greater China Group and 2009 Global Marathon region leader in IBM China.
